

Ameer Rubaiawi

Full Stack Web Developer

👤 Profile

Hey! I'm a seasoned software developer with over 6 years of experience, during which I've gained hands-on expertise in various aspects of software development. My specialization lies in web technologies, including Business intelligence solutions, develop API's, CI/CD implementation, and comprehensive testing and monitoring of services.

In addition, I actively contribute to the deployment process and play a crucial role in optimizing and maintaining databases, with a particular focus on relational databases such as PostgreSQL and MySQL.

Currently, I'm entrusted to lead a team to managing a modular CRM system for a prominent local shipping service. Leveraging Laravel, the popular PHP framework, and it's robust ecosystem.

Furthermore, I'm passionate about crafting exceptional user interfaces, and I excel in using Vue.js and React.js to create captivating and intuitive designs.
